ART DEVESON TELLS ABOUT TRIP TO ROME

Following, in part, is a letter to Mr. and Mrs. A. Deveson, McTavish Road, Sidney, from their son "Art," who is serving with the Canadian army in Italy:

... On Saturday I went to Rome and had that evening and all day Sunday in Rome. The trip was to see the finals in the Allied sports meet Sunday afternoon. They were held in the big Musso-lini Forum. There was some pretty good events. I'm sending the program on to you. Sunday morning I stepped to neutral territory in other words the Vati-can City. I went all through St. Peter's Cathedral, right to the very top. Boy, what a climb. I'm sending a picture of the cathedral. You will see a little ball below the cross on top. We were right in that. St. Peter's certainly is a wonderful place. Instead of paint-ings on the wall it's all done in mosaic. That is with small stones. You can't tell the difference un-less you look real close. They are sure a work of art and have to be seen to know what they are really like. I have one picture of the inside of St. P., but it doesn't show any of the mosaic. At about 1 o'clock I went and saw the Pope. He made a short speech in English and then in French. Rome has hardly been touched by the war. It's a pretty city and kept very clean. Some difference to most places in this country. People there are well dressed in most cases. It's sure a treat to walk around in a city that hasn't been bombed and shelled to blazes. I feel sorry for the kids in some of the places I've seen. But as for the older ones they brought it on themselves in lots of respects. Some of them are beginning to wake up to the fact now. I hope you can make out this scribble. I've just read it over and had a heck of a time. ...

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of white sheer, modelled on Grecian lines, and she wore a Juliet cap fashioned with orange blossoms, and a finger tip veil of tulle. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli and carnations and pink roses, tied with white heather. Miss Peggy Thompson, the maid of honor, wore robin's egg blue, and carried a sheath of pink gladioli.

News From Fulford Spiritualist Camp

By Beatrice C. Hamilton

FULFORD, Aug. 23. — The vari-ety concert at the camp on Sat-urday night was a great success. The visiting artists played before a full house and William Hutchin-son as "Lulu" kept the audience in gales of laughter — "Lulu" like figure in a pale blue evening dress, caused quite a flutter in many hearts before the evening was over. Jeremy Rougier won hearty applause with his songs, ac-companied by Miss B. Hamilton on the ukulele. Esther Jackson sang several well known songs and lead the community singing, ac-companying herself on the harp. Mary Lavigne gave really beauti-ful Hawaiian dances and tap num-bers.

The last half of the program was given as a radio broadcast and all the artists, lead by "Lulu," gave an amusing and lively broad-cast. Several musical numbers were played by Mary Lavigne on the mandolin and Miss B. Ham-ilton on the ukulele. Jeremy's month-ly organ, who was well received and Esther Jackson and "Lulu" in a skit of "Romeo and Juliette" caused much merriment.

Frank Heck Wins W. M. Mouat Cup

MAYNE ISLAND, Aug. 23. — Frank "Straight-Down-The-Cen-tre-And-Not-Too-Far" Heck was far too steady for Tom Gilmore, in the final of the William M. Mouat Cup, which was played at "Hardscrabble" Golf Course on Friday, Aug. 18.

Frank has been making a regu-lar habit of winning cups this year, and felt so sure of winning this one again that he didn't even bother to dust off the shelf it had stood on in his house!

Tom Gilmore sprung a surprise on most members, including Juddy Cullison, when he eliminated Judy in the semi-finals. He read-ily admitted, however, that Frank was too heavy metal for him and deserved to win his match.

WHERE ARE WE?

Sir: — I have not read Laski's Faith, Reason and Civilization but Bruce Hutchison's critique (?) appearing in a recent issue of the Victoria Times of it makes it a "must." Did I not know Harold Laski and Bruce Hutchison better than by reputation, the review would not encourage me to get the book. I have read Bruce Hutchison in the "Times" since the time of H.B.C. If I have read aright he is cynicism personified. I am a cynic. But my enthusiasms have petered out in the unwholesome atmosphere of our Christian civilization. B. H. the gardener knows that plants — animals too — must have good growing conditions in order to thrive. Religion has told us we of the animal genus, Homo, are not really animals and that as heaven is our home conditions here matter but little. In other words we are taught to put up with conditions no other ass but Homo, the sap, would stand. Hence Lenin's "Religion is the opiate of the people." In reviewing Laski's book, if every premise Bruce Hutchison makes is false, his conclusions are of no value. For instance he says — and makes Laski say, which I cannot believe — "Once it is admitted that there is nothing higher than the state, and no more life than the standard of living, then democracy has no claim to survive." If that isn't the smelliest kind of red herring. Not even the Nazis admit that. Of course there should be nothing higher than the state. But the state exists for the benefit of the individual. What is good for all — materially — is good for each. We have it that what is good for one is good for all. The trouble is that those who say so have the good things of life — they don't; but they stop better people having them — and the rest of us get nothing. There are no leavings. As for democracy: I have dreamed of it; but never seen it. Just to state what democracy is — social equality — shows how well we play at "follow my leader." Again I feel sure Bruce Hutchison mis-quotes Laski when he makes him say "man must find his God in the mysticism of Karl Marx." Laski knows his "Marx" better than I, but never saw mysticism where I failed. Marx the dialectician: yes! Bruce doesn't like that word; no more do I. I guess it is a little beyond us. Yet it is very simple. Something — everything — is conceived, is born; grows; reaches maturity; decays and dies. When Homo, the sap, really becomes wise he will be born again into something better. According to Marx, Socialism, Communism, Democracy, I think anarchism was the word, not democracy. Anarchism means without government. We govern ourselves, knowing that if we hurt others we hurt ourselves the more. We have a long way to go.

The question is where do we go from here? Some time ago Stalin said a "writer is an engineer of souls." To paraphrase a little; "that ain't the way Bruce heard it." F. A. THORNLEY, Sidney, B.C.

Birthday Party

GANGES, Aug. 23.—In honor of her daughter, Dolores, and to celebrate her 11th birthday, Mrs. Earl Lockwood was hostess to several young people, recently, at her home, "Hillside," Ganges. Tea was served at a prettily arranged table, centred by the birthday cake, decorated in pink and white and surmounted by pink candles, the places were marked by small petal baskets of pale green, filled with candy; low bowls of white and pink carnations carried out the effective color scheme of the table. The enjoyable afternoon was spent by the children in games.

Among those present were: Elizabeth and Elaine Aehison, Jill Barclay, Patricia Cartwright, Judy and Wendy Fanning, Barbara and Lawrence Goodman, Barbara and Peter Hanks, Dolores Jensen, Yvonne Mount, Dianne Richardson, Jenn St. Denis, Nonie Shove, Shirley Wagg.

BEACON AT THIRD — SIDNEY

Sorry . . .
but the foot
is too big for the shoe

While demands for telephone service have increased steadily during the war, the equipment necessary to provide service hasn't. The Telephone Company has been prevented from making any material additions to its system. That's why so many people have to do without telephone service these days. The foot just won't fit the shoe.

Factories that used to produce telephone equipment are now needed to fill war orders. The telephone situation is likely to get worse before it gets better. In the meantime, essential needs for telephone service, particularly in connection with the war effort, must come first.

WEAR IT ON YOUR ARM
Yes, we need your help...and need it badly. This is the biggest job we have ever tackled! Everything depends upon Victory. Canada's Army needs volunteers NOW. And, that means you and you! Wear Canada's Badge of Honour on your arm. You'll be proud of it, so will your friends. Every man who is able has got to do his bit. Maybe you don't think this means you... that it's a job for the other fellow. If you do, you're wrong. It's your war, too... a war for every man who is a man... for everyone who has a stake in Canada. Yes, this means you all right and we need you now for the months of intensive training to make you fighting-fit. We did it before and we can do it again... but we need your help.
